

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor of the Colony of New Zealand, in pursuance and exercise of the powers and authorities conferred upon him by "The Native Land Court Act, 1886," and "The Native Land Court Act Amendment Act, 1889" (hereinafter termed "the said Acts"), and acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said colony, doth hereby order and declare that the following questions shall be and the same are hereby brought within the jurisdiction of the Native Land Court established under the said Acts, that is to say:—

1. Who are the persons who would, but for the issue of the said memorial of ownership for the whole block called Okirae, containing three thousand two hundred and fifty acres, and the subsequent dealings therewith, now be entitled according to Native custom to the said piece of land known as Te Kiato, containing one hundred and twenty-five acres, more or less, if the same were now Native land the title to which was unascertained, and was the subject of an application to the said Native Land Court for investigation of the title thereto?

2. In what proportionate shares would such persons in such case be respectively entitled in the said piece of land?

And it is hereby further ordered and declared that this order shall take effect as from the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three.

Clerk of the Executive Council.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government Buildings, at Wellington, this tenth day of April, 1893.

Present:

THE HONOURABLE W. P. REEVES PRESIDING IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS under the provisions of "The Post Office Act 1881 Amendment Act, 1886," and "The Post Office (Foreign Parcels) Act, 1888" (hereinafter termed "the said Acts"), Orders in Council were made on the twenty-third day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, the twenty-seventh day of November, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, the tenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and the twenty-third day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, prescribing regulations and fixing rates of postage for the transmission of parcels through the post respectively within the colony to the United Kingdom, to foreign places by way of the United Kingdom, and to certain of the Australian Colonies and Tasmania: And whereas it is expedient to revoke the regulations and certain of the rates of postage made by the said Orders in Council and all amendments thereof (except the regulations contained in the Order in Council dated the twenty-fifth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, making regulations, inter alia, for the collection of Customs duty on parcels received from abroad), and to make others in lieu thereof:

CONDITIONS OF TRANSMISSION.

1. In order that a packet may be sent by Parcel Post, it should be handed in at a Post Office counter or delivery-window and bear the words "Parcel Post" written or printed conspicuously in the left-hand top corner. It is also desirable that every parcel should bear the name and address of the sender on the cover, but in such a position as not to be taken for the address of the parcel. The officer to whom the parcel is handed will check the size, weight, and postage affixed before accepting the parcel.

Parcels should be handed in at counter, and bear sender's address.

2. Parcels not exceeding 11lb. in weight, 3ft. 6in. in length, or 6ft. in length and girth combined, are accepted for transmission to all places within the colony, excepting those not served by railway, coach, or steamboat (see next section), the Australian Colonies (excepting New South Wales), and the United Kingdom. Thus a parcel measuring 3ft. 6in. in length could be 2ft. 6in. in girth, while one of 3ft. in length might be 3ft. in girth, &c. The limits of weight and size of parcels for other countries will be found at pages 491 to 496, second last column.

Limits of weight and size.

3. Parcels for New Zealand offices not served by railway, coach, or steamer, a list of which is given at pages 497 to 499, must not exceed 5lb. in weight, 2ft. in length, and 1ft. in breadth or depth; nor can parcels for those offices be accepted which are of too fragile a nature to permit of their safe transmission in mail-bags. These same limitations apply also to all parcels posted at such places.

Maximum dimensions and weight to and from New Zealand offices not served by railway, coach, or steamer.

4. Parcels must not be posted in posting-boxes; infringements of this rule render inland parcels liable to a fine of 6d. on delivery, and foreign parcels to detention.

Not to be posted in posting-boxes.

5. The sender of a parcel addressed to any place beyond New Zealand will require to make a Customs declaration (on a form to be obtained at any Post Office) describing the contents and stating the value thereof, and also giving the name of the office of destination and the sender's signature and place of residence. False declaration involves the forfeiture of the parcel, and renders the sender liable to prosecution under the Customs laws.

Sender of foreign parcel to make out Customs declaration.

6. The postage must be fully prepaid in postage stamps, which should be affixed by the sender or the person handing in the parcel to a label which may be obtained at the counter to be affixed to the parcel in the right-hand top corner.

Postage to be prepaid.

7. Parcels bearing or containing writing or marks of an offensive or indecent character, or containing gunpowder, cartridges, lucifer matches, or anything explosive or liable to sudden combustion, bladders containing liquid, live animals, offensive or filthy matter, or any substance likely to cause injury to other parcels or to the officers of the Post Office, are not accepted for transmission. Parcels addressed to countries beyond the colony must not contain any perishable articles, such as fish, game, &c., and are, in addition to the above, liable to the further prohibitions indicated at pages 491 to 496, last column.

Prohibited parcels.

8. Parcels containing perishable articles, such as game, fish, eggs, &c., may be accepted for inland transmission. Razors, scissors, needles, knives, forks, or other sharp instruments, liquids, or semi-liquids, such as paints, &c., bottles, or glass in any form, may be forwarded both inland and to such of the countries beyond the colony as do not specially prohibit their introduction (see prohibitions at pages 491 to 496, last column). All such articles must, however, be securely packed, so as to prevent all risk or injury to other parcels or the officers of the Post Office.

Parcels which can only be admitted if specially packed.

9. Parcels must not contain any letter, coin, or bank-notes (unsigned and cancelled bank-notes may, however, be forwarded to places in the colony in sealed packets), or any packet or parcel intended for delivery at an address other than that borne by the parcel itself. For every letter so enclosed, and for each article directed to a different address than the one on the parcel, the parcel becomes liable to a surcharge of double the postage which such enclosure would have cost if sent separately. Invoices may, however, be sent in parcels addressed to offices within the colony. Parcels having written thereon any communication in the nature of a letter are subject to a fine of 6d.

Not to enclose letters, or articles addressed differently to the parcel itself.

- Inland parcels may be registered. 10. Parcels for delivery in the colony may be registered on the same conditions as letters, and for an additional fee of 2d. a receipt will be obtained from the addressee on delivery and forwarded to the sender. Parcels directed to places beyond the colony cannot be accepted for registration, but, in lieu, the sender may obtain a certificate of posting on payment of a fee of 2d. Neither certificate of posting nor registration involve any liability on the part of the department beyond that named in clause 28.
- Certificate of posting for foreign parcels.
- Jewellery and valuables to be specially packed, and if for New Zealand, registered. 11. Parcels containing gold, jewellery, and such like valuables should be securely packed, and, if addressed to any place within New Zealand, are recommended to be registered. Their transmission to certain countries is not permitted (see prohibitions, pages 491 to 496, last column). Parcels containing gold mined in the North Island, if addressed to countries beyond the colony, can only be posted at Money Order Offices, and senders will have to pay thereon the gold export duty (2s. per ounce) in addition to the usual parcel postage.
- Gold export duty to be prepaid.
- Manner of packing. 12. The public will greatly facilitate the work of the Post Office and help towards the safe delivery of parcels by taking care that they are in all cases compactly, strongly, and securely packed, especially those with fragile or perishable contents. It must be borne in mind that each parcel must be several times handled before it reaches its destination, and although every care will be taken by the officers through whose hands they pass, yet it will be impossible to avoid occasional damage if the packing be defective.
- Contents may be examined by postal officers. 13. Parcels may be opened and examined by postal officers, but this does not make it obligatory that the ends shall be left open by senders. After so opening the examining officer will securely refasten them.
- Possible delay of parcels. 14. Parcels may be delayed when their transmission would interfere with the due despatch of letter mails.
- Delivery of parcels. 15. At places served by letter-carriers delivery of parcels will be made by them as far as practicable. Where letter-carriers are not employed, or where they are unable to deliver parcels, delivery must be taken at the Post Office. Senders are recommended to inform addressees by post of the despatch of parcels so as to assure prompt delivery.
- Redirected parcels liable to fresh rate of postage. 16. Redirected parcels are liable to a new rate of postage for each re-direction.
- Parcels liable to demurrage. 17. Parcels addressed to a Post Office "To be called for" will, after they have remained in the office seven clear days (excluding Sundays and holidays), be charged demurrage at the rate of 1d. a day. No demurrage, however, will be charged on parcels for places at which there is no house-to-house delivery, or to persons on board ship.
- Charges to be paid before delivery. 18. Parcels cannot be delivered until all charges due thereon, such as Customs duty, redirection fees, &c., are paid.
- Senders to be advised if parcels refused or undeliverable. 19. When parcels are refused by the addressees, or known to be undeliverable, senders will be immediately communicated with, and they may elect to have them redirected to another place or returned, but they must pay a fresh rate of postage for such redirection or return.
- Unclaimed parcels. 20. Unclaimed parcels will be retained at the office from which they should be delivered for one clear month, exclusive of the one in which they are received. At the end of that period the sender will be advised that they cannot be delivered, as provided in the preceding section.
- Undeliverable parcels.
- How disposed of. 21. Inland parcels, if not claimed by the addressees or senders within three months, exclusive of the one in which they have been received, will be disposed of as the Postmaster-General may direct. Parcels with perishable contents may be destroyed immediately they become offensive. Parcels from countries beyond New Zealand, if unclaimed, will be retained until expiry of six months from the date of posting of the advice of non-delivery to the sender, and then returned through the Dead Letter Office to countries of origin.
- Parcel once posted cannot be handed back to sender. 22. Postmasters are forbidden to hand a parcel back to the sender.
- Department not liable for delay. 23. The Postmaster-General is not responsible for the delay of any parcel.
- Department liable for loss or damage up to £2. 24. In the event of any damage or loss of any parcel occurring during transit, the Postmaster-General shall in no case be liable to pay, by way of compensation to the owner or otherwise, a greater sum than two pounds sterling in respect of any parcel.
